Dear Friend and Supporter,

The book title read, "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off!" Though I never read it, I distinctly remember the title, and sometimes, in the relentless pace of life, wish time would stop, I could breathe, rest, refocus, and reset. Then maybe I could say, "Okay, it's time to start again."

Moses pleads to God to "teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." (Ps 90:12) What a potent request; what a pregnant prayer! "Teach us ..." – help us to understand the brevity of life – measured here, not in years, but in days. (For me, over 25,550 of them). We have limited time. "That we may apply our hearts ..." -an expression that senses the value of how we spend or invest those days. I reflect on these things periodically, and it came to my mind again when I read these words from one of our Good News Club volunteers. "What a great year we've had! I think this is the smoothest year we've had yet. I know we all love these kids and this ministry and are sad to see this year end. Please pray over all our kids. Praise God for the younger and older kids we get to minister to and the Lord we get to serve!"

Your faithful support makes this kind of report possible.

In Christ Jesus,
